

The University of Mississippi

BREAK PERIODS

Purpose/Summary: This policy explains the residence hall closing times for fall, semester, and spring breaks. The policy also discusses potential ramifications students face if they do not follow these expectations.

The residence halls close for fall break, mid-year break, and spring break at 10:00 a.m. following the last day of classes or finals prior to each break. Alternate housing is available for students during these break periods. Halls remain open for Good Friday and Easter; however, food service options may not be available. Consult the notices that are posted during these times for more information. Students must vacate their rooms within 24 hours of their last final or at 10:00 a.m. for semester closing, whichever comes first. Students who do not vacate their rooms within the stated time frame will be assessed a fee per hour for every hour they stay after the official closing of the halls. Residents found in the halls while they are closed are subject to University judicial sanctions. It is important that students remove items they may need during the hall closing period. Should the staff be asked to open a hall due to a student forgetting an item, a charge will be assessed to the student.
