

Payments to Foreign Visitors and Non-U.S. Citizens

Summary/Purpose: Information covering payment to foreign visitors and non-U.S. citizens.

Both federal immigration laws and tax laws place a number of restrictions, and in many cases prohibitions, on payments made to foreign visitors. Violation of these laws can result in serious consequences for both the foreign visitor and the University. The University cannot make any payments to, or reimburse any expenses for, a foreign visitor who is not properly authorized under federal immigration laws.

Payments to foreign visitors are also subject to the general guidelines outlined in the Professional Services Section of the University Spending Policies.
