

The University of Mississippi

Students as PIs in Human Subjects Research

Summary/Purpose: Defining the role of students as principal investigators on research projects involving human subjects.

UM undergraduate and graduate students may serve as principal investigators (PIs) on research projects with human subjects, but they must have a UM faculty member as a research advisor on the project.