

Human Resource Policies Disclaimer

Summary/Purpose: This statement informs individuals that the University of Mississippi reserves the right to alter or amend any of the Human Resource policies at any time without notice.

The University of Mississippi reserves the right to alter or amend any policies contained in the listing of Human Resource policies at any time without notice. These policies are intended only to be guidelines for employment at The University of Mississippi and do not give rise to any contractual rights. The official policies will be located on the University Policy Web Page. It is the responsibility of the Department of Human Resources to maintain these policies.